Gentlemen:-

In a series of articles on Educational Points of Interest in New York City, now appearing in La Prensa, we would like to include the museum of your society.

This will be made possible by your cooperation only, by submitting general information that will tend to make an interesting story: A picture of the front of the building will also be appreciated.

Assuring you our cooperation, whenever desired, is at your disposal,

Very truly yours.

Arthur

Gentlemen:

Responding to your letter, I am sending you under separate cover our 'Historical Sketch' describing the organization of this Society. If you will telephone and have your representative make an appointment with Mr. Howland Wood, the Curator, he may be able to give you further information such as you desire. May I say, however, that the present time, and probably until the 1st of January next, our collections are not visible to the public pending the completion of an addition now building.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
